

editorial page

Minnesota Daily

friday, february 17, 1967

Kens Knoep
Editor

Jim Feijning
Business Manager

John Styve
Advertising Manager

Doug Armstrong
Managing Editor

Mike Schmitz
Associate Editor

The Minnesota Daily is an independent student newspaper. The views expressed in the column below are those of the editors. Opinions elsewhere on the editorial page are those of the students who write them.

A Courageous Statement

Yesterday Dean of Students E. G. Williamson became the first major educator in the country to issue a statement about the National Student Assn. (NSA) - Central Intelligence Agency relationship exposed earlier this week.

WILLIAMSON, WHO IS a member of NSA's Advisory Board, echoed our feelings when he expressed continued confidence in the NSA as an "effective national student organization legitimately working in behalf of American students here and abroad."

The statement must have given badly needed moral support to the members of NSA's national supervisory who are meeting in Washington, D.C., around-the-clock in an effort to save the association.

CPYRGHT